

How do you feed a family of four without a job?

It's the perfect irony—A&P/Pathmark and ABC's Good Morning America are teaming up to answer a question:

How Do You Feed a Family of Four in this Economy?

The 23,000 members of United Food and Commercial Workers Union Local 1500 have an answer: with jobs. Pathmark should agree not to put dozens of people out of work by closing their West Hempstead store.

Unlike many industries in today's economy, Supermarkets are seeing an increase in sales. Still, A&P Supermarkets, parent corporation of Pathmark supermarkets, is planning to lay off dozens of full- and part-time workers by closing their West Hempstead Pathmark on Long Island. These layoffs will kick many Pathmark workers to the curb making their families the latest victims of the economy.

So, UFCW Local 1500 members have a new question for A&P/Pathmark:

How should Pathmark workers feed their families after you lay them off?

Call A&P/Pathmark at 1-866-443-7374 and tell them you've had enough of corporate greed.

Tell them to stop the West Hempstead layoffs.

The only values for sale at Pathmark are family values.

Paid for by

The logo for UFCW Local 1500, featuring a stylized yellow and black wave graphic to the left of the text "UFCW LOCAL 1500".